

Medical Interpreting: A Visual Perspective

ATTENTION DEAF AND HEARING Interpreters. We invite you to challenge yourself and open your mind to the use of medical terminology using classifiers and handshapes. This Friday workshop is open to individuals of all signing abilities and will serve as the introduction to the extensive advanced medical workshop on Saturday and Sunday. Participants will get a preview of what the Visual Hands workshop has to offer, and an introduction to classifiers and handshipes. This workshop will be a fun and interactive activity all relating to ASL communication in the medical environment.

Oct 20, 2017

Scott Cawley, NAD IV, is a seasoned paramedic, interpreter, and medical workshop presenter who developed this professional development opportunity for you to enhance your current abilities. This workshop's biggest asset is the team of highly trained Deaf educators and ASL experts. Jim Lipsky, CDI, has an extensive background in medical interpreting and has presented on numerous occasions on the use of linguistic classifiers and handshapes in medical interpreting. Robert DeMayo is an actor, educator, comedian, and gestural communicator who brings a live richness to the ASL language. He has presented this topic across America. Each member of the team has proven to be an expert in their craft and have strong resumes in educating deaf and hearing interpreters.
